Building Warrior Women 3-Day Training Event

Event Description:

Warrior Women: "Philosophical, not occupational" This is a one of a kind training event designed for women in the public safety profession who are interested in taking their professional, tactical and physical skills to the next level. This course is facilitated by LouKa Tactical trainers, the nation's most experienced law enforcement instructors who specialize in training female officers in the "hard to kill skills." LouKa's training has recently been featured on PoliceOne.com and Officer.com e-publications.

Day 1 attendees will be inspired by retired FBI agent and SWAT sniper Patricia Thompson. In her hands-on approach Patty will focus on mastering leadership at every level, discuss the power of mentoring, and confidence building. Day 2 functional areas include Self Help/Buddy Care and Rescue techniques. Participants will review small group case study debriefs, hands-on individual, and team movement drills followed by reality based scenarios. Day three participants will experience a full range day of dynamic Survival Pistol Techniques.

Equipment for days 2-3: Duty belts/gear including 300 rounds of pistol. Body armor, wrap around eye protection and ear protection.

Fee: $399.00
