Course: Understanding and Training the Female Shooter-Instructor Development

Location: Port Malabar Rifle and Pistol Club, 610 Hurley Blvd, Palm Bay, Florida 32908

For logistical information contact: Gary Juhl (nomadichillbilly@yahoo.com)

Dates: February 6-7, 2021

Times: 0800-1700 hrs

Fee: $499.00

Our Primary Goal: To provide realities, concepts, and approaches that will assist instructors in enhancing their female shooter's performance. The purpose of this two-day instructor development class is to share knowledge gained through over 26 years of training in law enforcement at every level, specifically women. It is designed and delivered by experienced female firearms instructors whose intentions are to broaden the knowledge of how a female's physiology plays a role in the shooting process, ergonomic aides/technologies currently available to assist the smaller statured officer, communication, culture and social issues that can impact the female shooter. Instructors will learn and evaluate creative and effective ways of using peer coaching, introducing competition into their training as well as proven concentration techniques to improve marksmanship. The class is based on an open format with time allotted for 360 degree information sharing. A very honest and realistic approach to enhancing the female's shooting performance will be the focus of the discussion. This is a custom course. Each participant will be surveyed prior to class for their areas of interest to be covered in class.
